ORROROO BYPASS WORKS IN FULL SWING

Stage 2 of the Orroroo heavy vehicle bypass works are progressing on schedule with works expected to be completed by early December this year. Despite some weather delays Council staff and contractors are still on target to reach the milestone dates as articulated at the commencement of the works.

The road formation, culverts and base preparations aim to be completed by Mid November and the spray sealing of the middle sections along Railway Terrace are booked for the week of the 21st November subject to no further weather delays.

Council CEO Paul Simpson said “This is a large project for a small Council like Orroroo Carrieton to take on and we are really pleased that we will finally have a functional bypass at the completion of Stage 2 works, the staff have done a fantastic job to keep on track with the construction timeframes in such unpredictable weather patterns”.

The project has been joint funded from the Special Local Roads Program and Council funds.

Message from the Mayor

Well I said in last month's musings that it would no doubt warm up & we all know that it hasn't as yet. This past week has been particularly chilly and very wet as well but I can always find a reason to stay inside and avoid the worst of it. No such luck last Thursday when we played bowls in Jamestown. The Bureau had not predicted the correct temperature and many of us were ill equipped clothing wise for how bitter it was. That we came away with a win softened the blow somewhat!

The continuing rain at this time of the year has made everything grow exponentially especially those things we try to control. We had a mob of sheep in the backyard a month ago and they mowed it down really nicely. You should see it now. We'll need to get the little slasher in, its grown so much and our sheep aren't hungry enough to eat barley grass that has run up. What a year! It's been a long time since we've had growth like this especially after such a dreadful first six months.

This has made it difficult for our engineering staff to keep up with everything especially with so many of them required on the Bypass project which has a definite time line attached. We have employed extra labour to do our yearly fire prevention slashing but that has got behind with so many days lost to rain. It's a challenge for everyone and we ask for your understanding here. When situations like copious amounts of spring rain arise (which we'd like a little more often than we've had of late) it makes us realise how finely balanced our human resources are at our Council but we hope you appreciate we are all working to get on top of it.

I had the privilege to be invited (along with Rob) to Mayor Peter Matthey's Farewell Luncheon at Burra a fortnight ago. Peter started on the Hallett Council at the age of 25 some 45 years ago. His contribution to Local Government both locally and statewide is immense. Peter richly deserves his OAM. There are many people over the years that have served their communities in a council capacity for 30 years plus and the experience gained over time in all facets of local government is extremely valuable. The 5 returning councillors here in Orroroo are racking up considerable experience as well. It certainly helps to make what we hope are well informed decisions.

On Friday night Deputy Mayor Chapman and I (plus Marge & Rob) along with CEO Paul will attend the Ag Town of the Year announcement dinner at Mt Barker. We'll see how we go!

-EXPRESSION OF INTEREST CASUAL EMPLOYMENT-

Council is looking for a versatile and energetic person to work at Council on a casual basis covering peak periods and extended leave. The role will involve performing general administration tasks including front counter responsibilities and would ideally suit a locally based person.

A high level of computer literacy and the ability to quickly learn various programs is essential. This will require an initial block of a number of weeks to be sufficiently trained in aspects of the role. Please contact the CEO, Paul Simpson for further clarification.

From the Council Desk

Rain, Rain and more Rain!! Well that's a massive turnaround from the bleaker outlook provided in July and early August. Would it be cheeky of me to suggest that we might have had enough rain for the time being, perhaps a nice spring break to bring the crops to a nice conclusion!

Unfortunately the by-product of this persistent heavy rain is some delays in some of our scheduled works programs as staff are busily trying to get the Bypass complete under very trying conditions. Please keep this in mind if you notice the towns are looking less than their best and the slashing is a bit behind schedule. The outdoor staff will endeavour to catch up as soon as the Bypass construction is complete, it is a large construction project for a small workforce to undertake. We are aware that there are still clean up requirements following the recent storms and rain events and we will be able to concentrate our efforts onto the footpaths and roads towards the middle of November and beyond.

The Orroroo Swimming Pool season has been delayed due to a resurfacing of the pool following the September hail storm, we are still on track for an early December pool opening subject to some favourable weather. This wet weather is certainly challenging us, luckily we haven't seen much need for the pool in this current climate.

We continue to push forward with finding a solution for the Childcare gaps in Orroroo Carrieton. The and developed a strategic plan for the future. Essentially we (as a group) are trying to find short, medium and long term options to bridge the gap in childcare services. We are really optimistic that we can create a meaningful change in short periods of time.

Childcare Working Party has met again in October

The Childcare working party has set the following Vision:

- Ready access to quality childcare services to benefit children, families and the community in Orroroo.

The Childcare working party has set the following Purpose:

- Facilitating pathways to deliver childcare services that deliver upon this vision.

The working party has the following Objectives:

- Short-term objectives (<12 months):

Service coverage that meets the following criteria (or as close as possible) for 2023:

- 16 places for childcare services
- Operating five days per week in school term
- Operating 8:00am to 6:00pm

Longer-term objectives (12 months +):

- A self-sustaining long daycare service that meets the service needs of the community

I would be accurate in saying that the Childcare Working Party is absolutely committed to improving the outcomes for the community.

UPDATE

The Orroroo Childcare Working Group met for a strategic planning session on Monday 17 October, setting a number of important short-term and longer-term objectives for improving access to childcare services in Orroroo and for surrounding communities.

Short-term priorities focus on securing childcare services for 2023, working closely with RICE (Remote and Isolated Children's Exercise), the school and local families to finalise arrangements for 16 places during school terms throughout the year.

Longer-term activities will involve working with stakeholders to secure long-term solutions for childcare. This will involve a range of planning, fundraising and advocacy activities to engage or establish an accredited service provider and developing an appropriate facility (through redeveloping an existing site or as a bespoke greenfield development), before establishing an accredited service locally.

The policy changes to follow from the Royal Commission into Early Childhood Education and Care will play an important role in determining the pathways available for establishing a service in Orroroo, so the Working Group will be engaging with this process as a matter of priority.

More broadly, the Working Group will be engaging with the local community and an extensive range of external stakeholders in developing and delivering these objectives, so anyone with an interest is encouraged to engage through members of the Working Group.

PROBUS REPORT

The October Probus meeting was held at the Commercial Hotel attended by 22 Members & 10 apologies.

Simon Rowe told us about the harm & chaos that the hailstorm caused to the Commercial Hotel while trying to clean & mop water from carpets etc. They managed to accommodate and provide meals for motor bike riders, who became stranded because of flooded creeks.

Beth Hooper read a humorous poem 'Santa Claus & The Mouse'.

Joan Ellery talked about happy memories of her family, making hay & stooked hay stacks, how all the neighbours helped each other. They were amazed when a machine was invented that could tie the wheat with twine, instead of doing it by hand.

Beryl Luke shared memories of living in Alice Springs as a Railway workers' child before & during the Second World War from 1935-1945.

Meeting ended the usual way with members enjoying lunch.

In other events, Tour Director Margaret Breton organised 14 people to go to Peterborough Town Hall on Saturday 8th October for a performance of the Adelaide Sympathy Orchestra. The Orchestra entertained a large and appreciative crowd.

Next meeting date has been changed to Tuesday 8th November (second Tuesday of the month due to the Melbourne Cup). Meeting at 11am, all invited to join for lunch at 12pm with a 2-course luncheon. Everybody, search your wardrobes as there will be prizes for both Male & Female best &/or most notable outfits! Luncheon cost is $30.00, bookings appreciated.

The Probus Christmas Luncheon will be held on Tuesday 6th December from 11am cost $30.00, bookings appreciated. $10.00 Kris Kringle.

South Australian

Dog and cat breeding and sales laws

Government of South Australia
Dog and Cat Management Board

South Australia has laws to regulate the breeding, sale and welfare of dogs and cats. Anyone selling a dog or cat they have bred, must follow the six basic rules below. This includes rescue groups and owners of animals who have 'accidental' litters.

1 Uphold welfare standards for breeding animals

The South Australian Standards and Guidelines for Breeding and Trading Companion Animals set out the acceptable housing, husbandry, veterinary care and living standards for breeding animals and their litters. You must follow or exceed these standards to avoid breaking state animal welfare laws.

2 Register as a breeder in Dogs and Cats Online

Everyone that breeds dogs or cats for sale must register as a breeder on Dogs and Cats Online and pay the ($75) registration fee. This includes rescue groups and owners of animals who have had 'accidental' litters. Dogs and Cats Online is the state database for dog, cat, breeder registrations; microchip and desexing information. If your contact details change (address, email or phone number) at any time, you must update this information in Dogs and Cats Online.

3 Adhere to advertising rules

Any advertisements to sell dogs or cats must include the following information for each breeder and person involved in the sale.

- Names and phone numbers
- DACO breeder numbers

4 Microchip dogs and cats before sale

You must have puppies and kittens microchipped before you sell them and have the microchip recorded in Dogs and Cats Online.

- Typically the implanter records the microchip number to the breeder (current owner) in Dogs and Cats Online.
- When puppies or kittens are sold, the breeder then transfers the microchip number to the buyer (new owner) via Dogs and Cats Online.
- The new owner must receive the microchip number to complete the animal registration in their name.

5 Information for purchasers

Anyone that sells a dog or cat must provide the following information to the purchaser in writing.

- Names, phone numbers and DACO breeder numbers of everyone involved in the breeding and sale of the animal.
- Vaccination details, known illnesses or medical conditions.
- If desexed, the name and address of the vet and date of procedure.
- The animal's microchip number, date of procedure, any national registries the microchip information is stored on and name and address of the microchip implanter.
- For dogs, any control order on the dog.
- Any vet exemptions from microchipping or desexing.

6 Understand the desexing laws

Dogs and cats born after the 1 July 2018 must be desexed before 6 months of age or within 28 days of purchasing. Breeders registered in Dogs and Cats Online do not have to have their breeding animals desexed. Other dogs and cats exempt from desexing are those registered and owned by Dogs SA, Feline Association of South Australia or Governing Council of the Cat Fancy members; working livestock dogs; registered Greyhound Racing SA dogs; or any a vet has declared in writing that to do so would compromise its health or wellbeing.

Local Railway History Features Internationally

Last month a 'compressed' model 'O' (1:45 scale) railway layout featuring the former Orroroo and Black Rock railway yards won the 'Best Global Layout' category in the annual global 'Brick Train Awards'.

The awards were created a few years ago by a LEGO train club in the UK, and Brick Model Railroader based in the USA, for LEGO fan train builders and judged by members of the international LEGO train fan community.

The creator of our 'local' winning entries is 45 year-old Adelaide-based surveyor Damien Graetz. Damien's previous display was the Peterborough Roundhouse model which he dismantled about 18 months ago with many of the parts reused for the current display. Fancy that; a little-known region of a long forgotten railway line being voted best in the world.

Damien was humbled and very surprised for a 'little Aussie Battler' to have beaten some exceptionally talented builders from all over the world and hopefully has spread some South Australian Railways (SAR) awareness in the process. In addition Damien also picked up Best Australasian Wagon for his S class sheep van. The art of scale model train/layout building with Lego bricks occupies a very small niche, and without being into trains few people fully appreciate".

Damien's layout isn't quite finished yet - only three sides were built for the award, and he is currently finishing off the fourth side which is a small section of the Peterborough yard between the former goods shed and just over Hurlstone Street. Both the Orroroo and Black Rock bridge sections have been extended since the award to get the track in the desired alignment and now includes Orroroo's Minburra Road level crossing. When laid out, the model made from an estimated 250,000 LEGO blocks, measures seven metres long by three metres wide and fits into a box trailer.

A self-confessed LEGO and rail enthusiast since he was a boy, Damien reckons "there was an intervening period when I discovered girls and a few other things, but now with kids of my own my interest in modelling is back." As for cost, "a lot, I try not to keep track,"

Damien says. "The layout has been a big labour of love over the past 18 months to design and build and probably would still not have been built without the help, tolerance and patience of my wife Robyn and children Ben and Harrison, who have also stood in when required to assist turning my digital designs into a large physical display.

While we all say that we don't build to win awards, it is nice to occasionally receive some recognition for the thousands of hours that go into building a train layout worthy of being voted the best in the world."

The display features narrow gauge rolling stock and steam locomotives - Y Class, T Class, 400 Class Garratt and 830 Class diesel, has not been displayed in the north yet, but Damien has been approached to display it next year in the region - perhaps it could come to Orroroo?

Re the future of the display, there are no long-term plans yet, "but I do want to get back into doing broad gauge layouts at some point so will probably dismantle it in the next 18-24 months to make way for a new layout of another country town on the broad-gauge network that I started designing a few years ago - unless someone offers me a small fortune to take it off my hands", Damien says.

Looking back – when an ambulance at Pekina made the State news ...

News (Adelaide) Wednesday 3 June 1936 p4 Ambulance's 500-Mile Trip For Sick Clergyman

A 500-mile journey is being made today by a South Australian ambulance to Pekina (via Terowie) and Port Pirie and back to Adelaide. The ambulance will carry Monsignor O'Rourke, a well-known clergyman of the Port Augusta Roman Catholic diocese, from Pekina to the Port Pirie Hospital.

Monsignor O'Rourke became critically ill a week ago while on his way to a conference of clergymen at Peterborough, and has since been cared for at the Pekina Presbytery.

With Ambulance Officer Miller at the wheel, the ambulance left Adelaide at 7am today, and is expected to return tonight.

Southern Cross (Adelaide) Friday 25 May 1894 p8 PEKINA, May 22.

Considerable improvements in the shape of additions and repairs to the presbytery have been recently effected here, which were badly needed. The chapel has also undergone quite a renovation, being pointed up on the outside and very artistically painted inside. The contract was carried out by Mr O'Dea, under the able supervision of the Rev. Father Norton of Petersburg. The Convent of the Sisters of St Joseph has also shared in the general improvements, a substantial fence of galvanized iron having been constructed around it, as well as general repairs. Altogether the church, presbytery, and convent have undergone considerable improvement, and the congregation are much to be commended for their liberality. The only school here is the one conducted by the Sisters of St Joseph, and there are 70 children on the roll, with an average attendance of about 50. As well as the ordinary education, music, singing, drawing, painting in oils are taught, and with very good results. Recently a choir was formed by the Sisters, consisting entirely of school children, and the way they play and sing the Mass and Benediction is highly creditable to both teachers and children, especially when it is remembered that the majority of the little ones are under twelve years of age.

This being essentially a wheat growing district, the unprecedentedly low price for our staple product is causing a considerable amount of uneasiness, as it is felt by all that though we have a good average rainfall, and that our average returns have been equal or better than that for the whole colony, wheat at present prices will not pay to grow. Then the question comes, what else can farmers turn their attention to? The farms generally do not exceed 640 acres. This quantity of land up till now has been used for wheat growing, and kept a family fairly well. Sheep on this area cannot be kept in sufficient numbers to get a living from. More attention will have to be given to dairying and conserving food for cattle. Previous to the exportation of butter, brought about chiefly by the bonus, this article did not pay, and was almost neglected in the inland districts. Now that a regular market is pretty well assured, and with the new appliances for butter making, together with the facilities afforded by freezing cars, which are provided by the railway, it is well worth the serious consideration of our farmers whether this industry will not help to tide them over the present low prices for wheat. Rain is badly wanted as we have had but very little this year.

Looking back to Anzac Day Orroroo 2007. Sheila Toop, Alan Bowman (Orroroo) and Dave Lillywhite was over from Peterborough.

Ageing Well Day

Wednesday 5th October saw the celebration of Ageing well in Orroroo. The day began with morning tea so everyone could relax over a cuppa and a chat. This was followed by guest speakers: David and Lynne from "Care in Motion", Joan Luckraft spoke about services through the Orroroo Hospital, Barbara Nutt informed people of the services provided by the Community Home and Megan Goehring shared information about the allied services available to all in our local community. Megan also had everyone moving with her chair based exercises, which were very popular.

Lunch followed where everyone was able to catch up with people who they may not have seen in a while.

The afternoon provided fun activities with bag stenciling, and an experience with the Virtual Reality Goggles where participants stood on the top of a volcano, saw a geyser blow in Iceland, went scuba diving in the Great Barrier Reef all from the comfort of their chair.

A wonderful day of information sharing and socializing which all enable us to age well. Congratulations to June Chapman who won our lucky door prize.

Year 3/4 Environmental Day

In Term 3, after a lot of rain, thunder and lightning and a few phone calls and messages back and forth, it was decided that the Caltowie Corridors of Green Environmental Field Day was going to go ahead with a change of venue. The day was going to be held in the picturesque Appila Springs, but because of the wet weather, it was redirected to the Appila Town Hall and Stacey Park.

The first station the children were assigned to was "Water Bugs with Kelly." The children were able to look at pond water through a microscope to find different micro organisms.

The second station was looking at Aboriginal baskets that had been weaved. The children were then able to make their own friendship bracelet by weaving raffia.

The third station was "Birds with Greg Duggan" where we learnt about birds in our local area. We then had a break for Recess.

After Recess we were excited to see and touch many different types of rocks and minerals. Some were magnetic, some colourful, some glowed under ultra violet light and some were able to be changed and made into gypsum and Plaster of Paris.

We then hopped back onto the bus and travelled to Stacey Park, where at our fifth station, we were introduced to Professor Flint, a very funny Scottish Paleontologist who told us all about dinosaurs. Did you know all birds are dinosaurs?

By this time we were all hungry and the weather had cleared up so we had some lunch on the oval and got to have a much needed run!

After lunch we learnt about Vertebrates and Invertebrates with Kelly and were able to look, touch and feel some interesting bugs!

The final station and the most popular was Animals Anonymous where we met a sugar glider, quokka, crocodile, a goanna that licked Amelia's nose, a gecko and a python! Mr Stone got to hold the baby python who liked the look of the inside of his jumper and Mrs Stone held the baby quokka who fell asleep!

Many thanks to Mrs Davies for driving the bus, Mrs Stringer and Mr and Mrs Stone for driving the school car and joining in with our learning. We had a wonderful day!

The Caravan Park and Carrieton community was saddened at the loss of Kathy Chambers. Kathy and Michael came to the park over twelve months ago, gave exceptional service to the park and community and in that time made many friends and bought many repeat customers with their personal attention to guests. Kathy was celebrating her 70th with her twin sister and family at the park on long weekend when she suddenly took ill and died two days later. Our sympathy is extended to Michael and Kathy's family and friends. RIP Kathy.

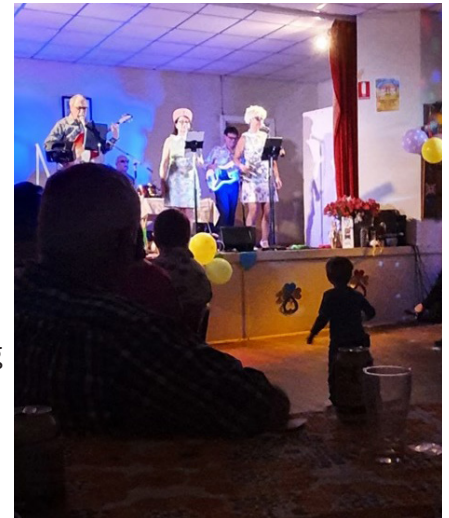

The Caravan Park is now seeking a couple to caretake and manage our small community owned park. Own accommodation necessary, pet friendly www.carrietoncaravanpark.com.au Enquiries to Julie Williams jaygeew@bigpond.com.au or mobile 0428 499 400

A big Thankyou to Ian and Alison Lord (caretakers 3 years ago) who kindly came and took on caretaking the park at short notice.

ORROROO TOWN CHRISTMAS LIGHTS COMPETITION REVIVAL

For many young adults in Orroroo the school presentation night of their childhood was filled with not only the school events but also countless coloured lights and Christmas themed decorations. After presentations were we would inevitably nag mum and dad to drive around town to look at ALL of the lights. Heaven forbid we should miss even one string of lights! Of course then we would have to engage the late night rush hour that was every school family doing the same.

My kids are still under 10 and the cycle continues every year, however sadly the competition hasn't stood the test of time.

The Orroroo Town Christmas lights competition was first officially run by the Orroroo and district Tourist Association back in 1995! This first year T & N ACKLAND took out the residential festive house award and the FARMERS WIFE store on Second Street took out the Best decorated Shop window. 15 separate businesses and residents took home these two awards over 10 years but more importantly the whole town shone!

This year the Orroroo Christmas Pageant committee decided it was time to turn the lights back on! Although there have been some notable homes that excel year after year we would love to see the whole town shining leading right up to Christmas. There will be prizes for both Best Decorated Home and Best Decorated Shop front. This will be judged on Tuesday the 13th of December, the School presentation night, and awards presented at the Christmas Pageant on the 23rd.

Don't forget also the Pageant is looking for as many floats as possible for pageant night with $850 worth of prizes up for grabs so make sure you get your family, sports club, book club all together and put your best foot forward! With kids entertainment, food stalls and of course the pageant itself this is sure to be a wonderful night for all.

To register floats contact Anna 0432 986 047 and follow the Pageant Facebook page for updates.
